Hi all, a quick naming query that I'll add to the consistency issues table and send around: Should other agency names be (1) English name followed by Māori name then acronym, eg. New Zealand Transport Agency Waka Kotahi (NZTA) or (2) just English name then acronym, e.g. New Zealand Transport Agency (NZTA)

Good question which I don't know the answer to (yet)! Something to check up the line i.e. aligning with messages from the centre as it was referenced this morning... 🙌 1

Perhaps we could run through the whole consistency table at tomorrow's catch up - I'll have it ready by then 🙌 1

Angus is on board!
Have chatted to Hannah and thumbs up from her! 🙌 1

(My two pennies) Waka Kotahi's CE and Executive Board decided on "Waka Kotahi NZ Transport Agency" as the name to use. Wouldn't we use the same convention?

so sorry Keryn for not keeping you in the loop - we have a slightly different approach for the BIMs based on feedback we've had Guess it depends on when that decision was made i.e. post election? At this stage I think we go with what's been directed from up the line...
