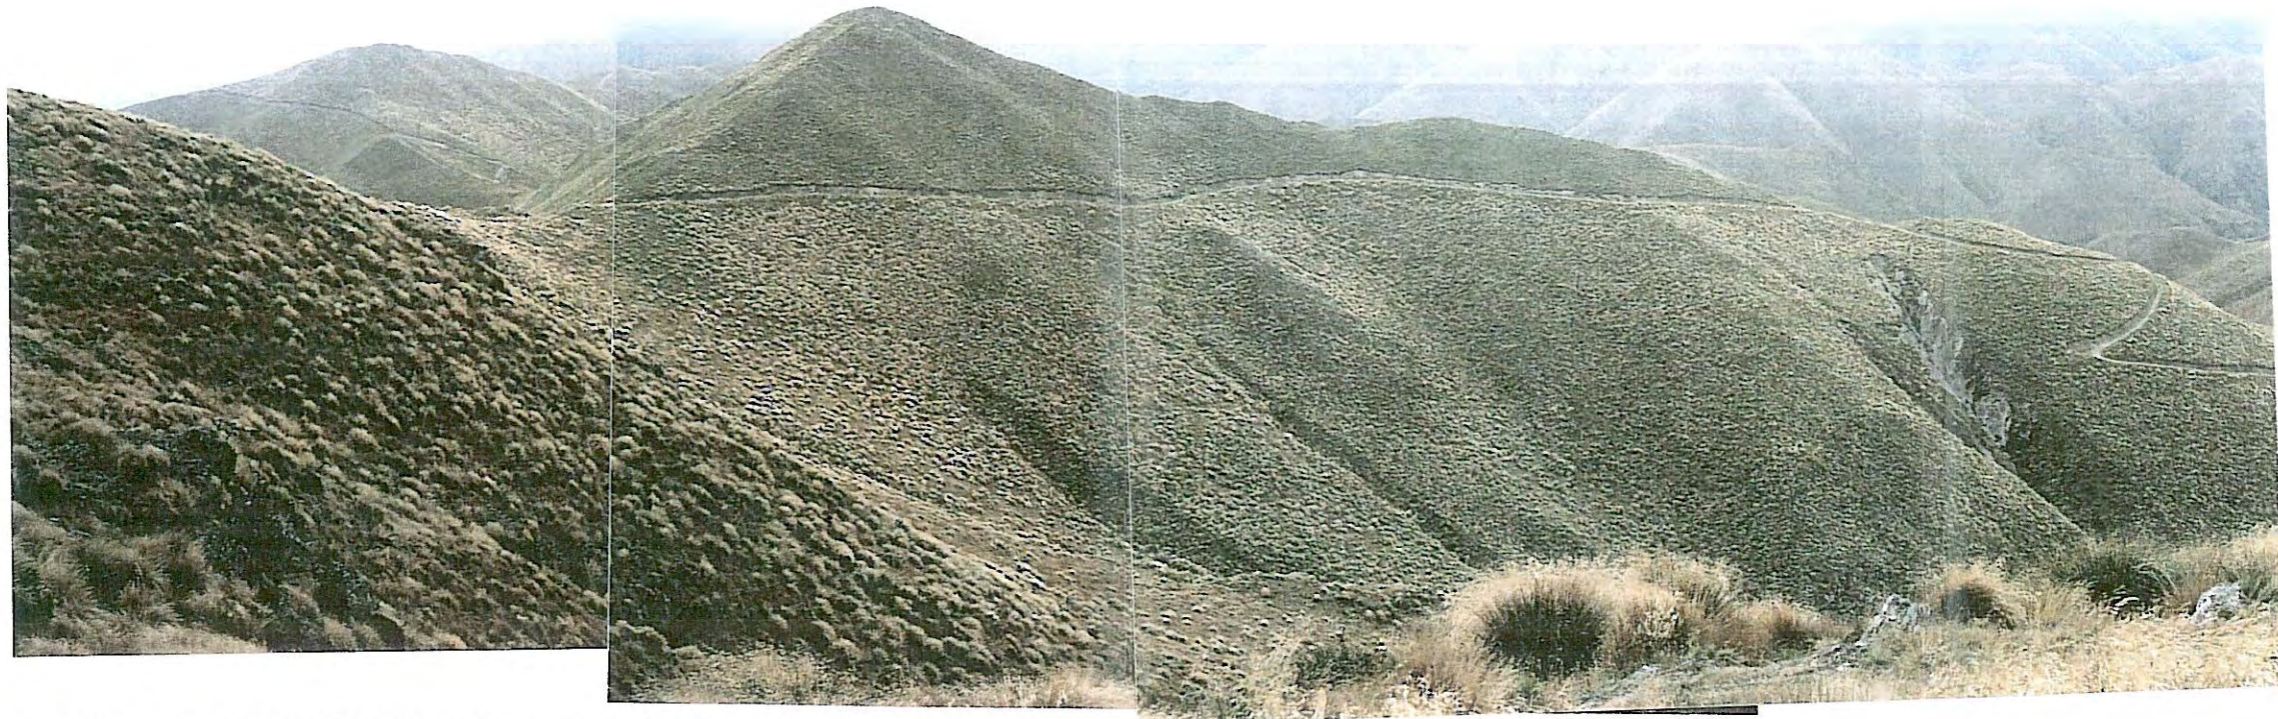

Photo 8 Area F, Kaiwarua. There is potential for worsening gully and soil erosion if burning and grazing continues. Past burning appears to have weakened tussock cover. DoC recommended this area for protection prior to LINZ allowing burning and tracking. Track to wallaby hunters' hut is on far right.

Photo 9 Area C, on Mt Cecil pastoral lease from Trig 862 looking south east. Dense snow tussock cover and rocky outcrops on steep upper slopes of east (left) and west (right) draining valleys and absence of any obvious tracking on the ridge crest gives the area a high naturalness and integrity. The area contributes to the overall high country landscape and the tussock grassland likely to provide significant invertebrate habitat. DoC recommended the area for protection.
